

New Creation

Disciplinary and Grievance Procedures

New Creation

Disciplinary and Grievance Procedures

Disciplinary Procedure

1. Purpose and scope

New Creation's aim is to encourage improvement in individual conduct or performance. This procedure sets out the action which will be taken when disciplinary rules are breached.

2. Principles

a) The procedure is designed to establish the facts quickly and to deal consistently with disciplinary issues. No disciplinary action will be taken until the matter has been fully investigated.

b) At every stage employees will be informed in writing of what is alleged and have the opportunity to state their case at the disciplinary meeting and be represented or accompanied, if they wish, by a trade union representative or a work colleague.

c) An employee has the right to appeal against any disciplinary penalty.

3. The Procedure

Stage 1 – First Warning

If conduct or performance is unsatisfactory, the employee will be given a written warning or performance note. Such warnings will be recorded, but disregarded after three months of satisfactory service. The employee will also be informed that a final written warning may be considered if there is no sustained satisfactory improvement or change. (Where the first offence is sufficiently serious, for example because it is having, or is likely to have, a serious harmful effect on the organisation, it may be justifiable to move directly to a final written warning.)

Stage 2 – Final Written Warning

If the offence is serious, or there is no improvement in standards or if a further offence of a similar kind occurs, a final written warning will be given which will include the reason for the warning and a note that if no improvement results within one month, action as Stage 3 will be taken.

Stage 3 – Dismissal or Action Short of Dismissal

If the conduct or performance has failed to improve, the employee may suffer demotion, disciplinary transfer, loss of seniority (as allowed in the contract) or dismissal.

Gross misconduct

If, after investigation, it is confirmed that an employee has committed an offence of the following nature (the list is not exhaustive), the normal consequence will be dismissal without notice or payment in lieu of notice:

- theft, damage to property, fraud, incapacity for work due to being under the influence of alcohol or illegal drugs, physical violence, bullying and gross insubordination.

While the alleged gross misconduct is being investigated, the employee may be suspended, during which time he or she will be paid their normal pay rate. Any decision to dismiss will be taken by the employer only after full investigation.

Appeals

An employee who wishes to appeal against any disciplinary decision must do so to any Incumbent, Methodist Minister or the HR person in New Creation within five working days. They will hear the appeal and decide the case as impartially as possible.

Grievance Procedure

Dealing with grievances informally

If you have a grievance or complaint to do with your work or the people you work with you should, wherever possible, start by talking it over with your line manager. You may be able to agree a solution informally between you.

Formal grievance

If the matter is serious and/or you wish to raise the matter formally you should set out the grievance in writing to your line manager. You should stick to the facts and avoid language that is insulting or abusive.

Where your grievance is against your line manager and you feel unable to approach him or her you should talk to another minister or the HR person.

Grievance hearing

Your line manager will call you to a meeting, normally within five days, to discuss your grievance. You have the right to be accompanied by a colleague or trade union representative at this meeting if you make a reasonable request.

After the meeting the line manager will give you a decision in writing, normally within 24 hours.

Appeal

If you are unhappy with your line manager's decision and you wish to appeal you should let your line manager know.

You will be invited to an appeal meeting, normally within five days, and your appeal will be heard by another Minister or the HR person. You have the right to be accompanied by a colleague or trade union representative at this meeting if you make a reasonable request.

After the meeting the Minister or the HR person will give you a decision, normally within 24 hours. The minister's or HR person's decision is final.